There's been a good deal of misinformation about a boycott resolution from both sides. It's not before the Council and I doubt it will be, or that it would pass if it was.

Subject: Human Rights resolutions - the right priorities are local

Honored Members of Cambridge City Council,

As residents, voters and taxpayers, we look to your leadership and action on matters which impact our residential life and the experiences of those who visit and transit Cambridge. Much is being said and written about incidents in other countries (Israel/Gaza), states (Pennsylvania) as well as Cambridge where human and civil rights are held dear. Let's keep the focus on local examples and local challenges.

I would urge both caution and restraint when raising matters outside the jurisdiction of Cambridge (and the Commonwealth), unless such matters impact Cambridge directly. For me, the focus on matters such as the Cambridge mis-treatment of the Harvard student take precedence and priority over events in a Philadelphia Starbucks or any resolutions relating to BDS (unless this impacts the financial position of Cambridge and its ability to serve residents).

Acting locally to improve how we live with each other in the community called Cambridge should be the City Council and City Manager's FIRST, primary priority. Acting locally so that each resident can live peacefully and healthily is what I expect of those I choose for City Council.

Kind Regards,
